HIGHLAND SPRINGS.

The funeral of Mr. Joseph W. Bilbie, at his late home on Fern Avenue, was largely attended by the friends whom his noble churacter and sterling worth had won during his residence here. All were mourners, and felt that the community had sistatued a great loss lit the death of this highly and much-loved man. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Spiers, paster of the new church of Richmond, of which Mr. Bilbia, was a consistent member. The foral offerings were choice and beautiful and the music by Mr. Dudley and Mrs. Collins was rendered in their usual charming manner. The interinent was made at New Bridge.

Mr. Robert McNaimee, of Richmond, was a guest on yesterday at the home of his sister, Mrs. P. L. Gerow, of Beech Avenue.

Mrs. Mary J. Carter, who has been confined to her home by illness, is very much better.

adopted amid great enthusiasm by R. E. Lee Camp. No. 1, on Friday right, com-nending the heroism of James H. Beers, The resolutions in full are as follows:

Whereas, it is related in that most admirable and soul-stirring book entitled "Four Years Under Marse Robert," written by our comrade, Major Robert Silles, that early in 1801 James H. Beers, a citizen of the State of Connecticut, inspired by the conviction of the righteensness of the cause for which the Southern States were contending, left his wife and children and Kindrag in, his quality State and came to Richmond, where he enlisted a as a private Confederate soldier in the Letcher met a hero's death in battle; that his remails were interred in Hollywood Cemetery, in the section of his friend and comrade, Major Stiles, and his dust there mingles with the sell of the State to which he consecrated his valor and his life; that the wife and two small girl children of this gallant soldier came through the lines and stood beside the grave where the loved husband and father was laid to rest in our beautiful city of the dead, and remained in flichmend during all the stirring scenes of the conflict until 1895, when they returned to their kindreds in Connecticut

After the executive duties of the board were completed Mr. H. A. Gillis reported that it was his intention to visit Roanoke with several of the State officers this week for the purpose of organizing a post in that city. The latter part of the meeting was taken up in discussing the good that would come to Richmond from the special meetings. One of these was held two weeks apart. The next special meeting will be held at the T. P. A. headquarters Thursday, the 31st. Theory these was herdays were successed. BABY BOY LEFT AT THE CITY ALMSHOUSE
